

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	vii
List of Contributors	ix
List of Illustrations	xiii

Volume Editor's Introduction	1
Eavan O'Brien

Part I. Authority and Morality in Women's Early Modern Writing

1.	Moral Authority and the Pursuit of Pleasure in Marguerite de Navarre's Heptaméron Sarah Alyn Stacey	25
2.	Cervantes, Zayas, and the Seven Deadly Sins Anne J. Cruz	59
3.	María de Zayas and St. Beatriz of Hungary Elizabeth Rhodes	93
4.	Sor Juana Inés de la Cruz: Suicides and Sudden Deaths Anthony John Lappin	121

Part II. Representing Early Modern Women in their Legal-Political Contexts

5. Female Vice and Virtue and the Authority of the Law in Early Modern France 151
Lyndan Warner
6. Fantasies of Witches and Soldiers' Wives in Baroque Germany 187
Jonathan Durrant
7. Irish Nuns and the Counter-Reformation Movement: The Struggle between Nation and Vocation 221
Naomi McAreavey

Part III. Women's 'Authorization': Struggles and Strategies

8. The Self-Fashioning of a Female 'Prince': the Cultural Matronage of Vittoria della Rovere 253
Adelina Modesti
9. Choosing positions: Social and Literary Strategies of Women Writers from the Dutch Republic 299
Lia van Gemert
10. Authority and Authorship in Isabel de Liaño's Religious Epic 333
Eavan O'Brien